

Rev. June 2013

FACTS

What does First Advantage Bank do with your personal information?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and Income
- Transaction or Loss History
- Credit History, Assets and Checking Account Information

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons First Advantage Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does First Advantage Bank share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes: such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes: to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	No	We don't share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes: information about your transactions and experiences	Yes	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes: information about your creditworthiness	No	We don't share
For nonaffiliates to market to you	No	We don't share

Questions

Call 931.552.6176 or toll free 800.552.9291 or go to www.firstadvantagebanking.com

WHAT WE DO
How does FIRST ADVANTAGE BANK protect my personal information?	To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. We also maintain other physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect this information and we limit access to information to those employees for whom access is appropriate.
How does FIRST ADVANTAGE BANK collect my personal information?	We collect your personal information, for example, when you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • apply for a loan or open an account • provide employment information or show your Driver’s License • provide account information We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates or other companies.
Why can’t I limit all sharing	Federal law gives you the right to limit only: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness • affiliates from using your information to market to you • sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
DEFINITIONS
Affiliates	Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Advantage Investments
Nonaffiliates	Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Advantage Bank does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you.
Joint marketing	A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Advantage Bank does NOT jointly market.
Other Important Information	For Alaska, Illinois, Maryland and North Dakota customers. We will not share personal information with non-affiliates either for them to market to you or for joint marketing without your authorization. For California customers. We will not share personal information with nonaffiliates either for them to market to you or for joint marketing without your authorization. We will also limit our sharing of personal information about you with our affiliates to comply with California privacy laws that apply to us. For Massachusetts, Mississippi and New Jersey customers. We will not share personal information from deposit or share relationships with nonaffiliates either for them to market to you or for joint marketing without your authorization. For Vermont customers. We will not share personal information with nonaffiliates either for them to market to you or for joint marketing without your authorization and we will not share personal information with affiliates about your creditworthiness without your authorization.